

Ben Reilly

(636) 357-6920 | Garland, TX | benmreilly@gmail.com | Personal Portfolio | LinkedIn

Professional Summary

Highly driven problem solver looking to gain experience, grow a powerful skill set, and become prepared to fix anything. Seeking to become a valuable asset for technical problems and workflows in exchange for an opportunity to gain practical experience and work alongside professionals.

Technical Skills

Python, Java, Javascript, C#, C++, HTML, CSS, Linux, Bash, Git, Unity

Education

New Apprenticeship, (AWS), Remote

September 2022 – Present

- Developed an understanding of the essentials of networking, including subnetting.
- Reviewed Linux, Bash scripting, and Crontab job scheduler.

Missouri S&T

August 2019 – December 2021

- Completed 46 credit hours towards a BS in Computer Science

Relevant Coursework

Computer Science

- Reproduced standard C++ libraries such as std::list given only function names and a library description.
- Completed VulnHub's Kioptrix Level 1 CTF, spawning a root shell on a remote VM by exploiting open ports.
- Placed 3rd in ACM's game AI design competition at Missouri S&T.

Professional Experience

Easterseals – Vocational Rehab Employment Specialist

Summer of 2021

- Oversaw young adults with special needs, evaluating their readiness for employment and giving advice on maintaining relationships with coworkers and employers as well as how to handle the duties of their new jobs.
- Utilized valuable communication skills to help employees with special needs communicate with their employers more effectively.